FOREWORD

The Ministry of Labour and Social Welfare embarked on another epic journey of crafting this strategic plan through revisiting the 2007/2008 to 2011/2012 strategic plan. The process was necessitated by the need to have a strategic plan with the ability to respond to the current challenges of the ministry, a plan with the capability of being able to embrace the new ministerial mandates and a plan with the oomph to take the ministry to its zenith. A carefully selected ten member ministerial committee under the stewardship of the permanent secretary, assisted by the Office of the Prime Minister diligently undertook the mammoth task of developing this strategic plan within the shortest possible period.

While the Ministry may be in quantitative terms be the smallest in government it is not certainly the smallest at a qualitative level. The old adage that “dynamite comes in small packages” rings true for our ministry. Notwithstanding our size, we shoulder massive demands from the Namibian population. Now and again in the line of duty we get cut and bruised and sustain scars. It is these scars which became among others things our strategic issues requiring a plan in the form of this document. The formulation of this strategic plan coalesced into a draft strategic plan when the ministerial strategic committee members together with experts from the Office of the Prime Minister put together their brains in a workshop at Swakopmund. With care and diligence of a scientist, the committee examined the mission, core functions, achievements and challenges of each office, directorate and division of the ministry. They also performed a SWOT analysis of the vital organs of the ministry. This process culminated in the development of strategic issues. In search of perfection nothing was spared including revisiting the foundational statements of the ministry i.e. the vision, mission, mandate and core values. This strategic plan was also architected in such a fashion to re-align it with Vision 2030, NDP 3 and the ruling party manifesto.

As a reminder to the readership of this document, the purpose of a strategic plan is to provide strategic direction towards performance improvement so as to achieve the organization’s mandate and vision. A strategic plan is the bedrock of Performance Management System (PMS). You will recall that our ministry was chosen as one of the pilot ministries for the implementation of the PMS. The development of this plan hence comes handy for the easy implementation of the PMS through the development of clear objectives.

This strategic plan is designed to assist the ministry to reach its goals and address strategic issues. This can only be achieved by making this plan a pocket guide for every employee of the ministry. The plan should be the “heart beat” of the ministry influencing the “pulse” of the activities of the employees. Strategic plans are envisaged to rejuvenate and re-activate energy less and de-motivated workforces. The proclivity for people to work directionless should therefore be a thing of the past.

A strategic plan is not a static document but a dynamic one. It is subject to change due to new demands and new mandates of the ministry. Such a plan is not the panacea to the dynamic organizational problems, hence an annual review of this document is necessary so as to accommodate the aforementioned needs.

This strategic plan is our touchstone. If utilised wisely it should provide solutions to our ministerial predicaments and usher in a new leadership dispensation and regime with optimum management qualities which will allow Namibia to be “a productive nation, enjoying harmonious labour relations, decent work, full employment and social welfare”.

Immanuel Ngatjizeko, MP MINISTER.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This Strategic Plan (2011/2012-2015/2016) of the Ministry of Labour and Social Welfare has been conceived to embrace the Ministry's vision and mission statements and ultimately its mandate in the quest to achieve its strategic objectives.

I would like to thank the Ministerial Strategic Planning Committee Team for their steadfast commitment during the compilation of this plan. They harmoniously worked together as a team. The success of the Ministerial Strategic Planning Committee could not have been realised without the input of all staff members of our Ministry. Their input is hereby acknowledged since it is the foundation to the construction of this Strategic Plan. I thank all the managers and staff members of the Ministry for being able to compile this plan within the shortest time period.

The contribution of the Office of the Prime Minister, in particular the Department of Public Service Management cannot go unnoticed. They provided the much needed technical guidance and assistance during our five (5) day Consultative Workshop in Swakopmund and beyond. Their coaching allowed us to remain focussed and be able to deal with the pertinent issues of our Ministry. I take note of our Strategic Planning Committee Secretariat who despite their busy main line schedules, tirelessly worked with the Office of the Prime Minister making sure that all relevant information was available on time during the compilation of this Strategic Plan. I thank them for such a commitment.

Last but not least I would like to express my profound appreciation to our political office bearers for giving their visionary support and blessings throughout the construction of this Plan.

I earnestly believe that through the implementation of this Plan, we will be able to meet the expectations of our clients in terms of improved productivity, customer satisfaction and timely service delivery.

Peter Mwatile
Permanent Secretary

Definitions of Key Terms:

Benchmarking - a systematic, deliberate and thorough search for best practices that would lead to performance improvement when adapted into your organisation. It is a systematic learning process to close the performance gap. It involves planning, data collection, analysis and design, implementation, monitoring and adjustment.

Cascade - a series of interventions through which an organisational aspect/concept (such as an objective) is passed from the higher to lower levels (to units) in a manner applied to each level, ensuring buy-in and resulting in aligned thinking and effort throughout the organisation.

Information Systems - interrelated components working together to collect, process, store, and disseminate information to support decision making, coordination, control, analysis, and visualisation in an organisation.

Initiative - current and future activities, projects and programmes the organisation is engaged in to help ensure it meets or exceeds its performance targets. Initiatives drive strategic performance. Initiatives are not ends in themselves, but means by which the organisation achieves its strategic objectives.

Key Performance Indicators (Measures(s)) – these refer to the objective and not the initiatives; KPIs are the agreed upon measure(s) in terms of cost, time, quality or quantity (CTQQ) used to determine effective performance and achievement of the objective. KPIs make objectives 'SMART' – specific, measurable, achievable, realistic and time-bound. 'KPIs with their targets are used to assess achievement, indicate progress, or the lack thereof, towards achieving the objective

Mission - the mission statement defines the nature and core purpose of the organisation and is based on its mandate as expressed in specific legislation.

Objective - a specific (definable), concrete (measurable), short-term statement of a desired result, condition or accomplishment towards the achievement of strategic and management plans.

Outcome - the consequence, effect, impact and/or payoff(s) of achieving specific objectives/results, especially where direct effect is extremely difficult to measure.

Outputs – the services delivered or products produced.

Performance Target - the target for each KPI can be expressed in different units, e.g. percentage, N$, number, frequency and date (sometimes referred to as TCQQ – Time, Cost, Quality and Quantity); the target is an agreed quantifiable performance level or change in level to be attained by a specific date and often based on benchmarking.

Project Management – the application of knowledge, skills, tools and techniques to project activities in order to meet or exceed stakeholder needs and expectations from a project.

Programme Management - a combination or grouping of related projects, together achieving a common objective or theme.

Strategy - strategy starts with the present and moves the organisation to the future. Strategy asks three questions: “Where are we now?” (by analysing our internal and external environment); “Where do we want to go?” (where is our preferred destination in say 5 years?); “How do we want to get there?” (our roadmap). Strategy represents the broad priorities adopted by the organisation in recognition of its operating environment and in pursuit of its mission.

Strategic Plan - the document capturing the strategic critical issues and strategies towards attaining the organisational purpose and direction as developed by the organisation. ; Strategic Planning - a process through which an organisation determines its strategic direction by setting clear objectives, including high level statements (vision, mission, core values) on a long term basis.

Structure - the systematic grouping and coordination of a variety of functions, tasks, hierarchies and resources (human, physical, financial and information) through an analysis of the work required - in a way that all management, supervisors and staff members have a clear understanding of their duties and how they work effectively together towards the organisational vision, mission and objectives.

Strategic Theme (Strategic Focus Area) – a theme, a priority or focus area, a high level objective or cluster of related objectives, sometimes called a goal. Typically themes are formed around broad service areas.

Values – values determine the way things get done in the organisation. Values are timeless guiding principles, deeply held beliefs within the organisation and demonstrated through the day-to-day behaviours of all employees. The organisation’s values make an open proclamation about how it expects everyone to behave.

Vision - the vision is the attractive and desirable picture of the future organisation, in say 5 or 10 years time, in terms of its likely physical appearance, location, size, image, products/services/activities, customers, processes, performance, staffing, capacities, etc. Vision translates mission into something really meaningful.

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Introduction and Background

On the 21st March 2015, the Ministry of Labour and Social Welfare (MLSW) was renamed as the Ministry of Labour, Industrial Relations & Employment Creation (MLIREC) to reflect the new mandate focusing on industrial relations and employment creation. The Social Welfare functions of the Ministry were transferred to the newly established Ministry of Poverty Eradication and Social Welfare. The MLIREC therefore embarked upon the revision of its comprehensive five (5)-year Strategic Plan covering the period of 2013 - 2017, in order to ensure the appropriateness of the Plan and its responsiveness to new mandate and Vision 2030. The revision focused on the overall mandate of Offices, Directorates and Divisions with specific emphasis on industrial relations and employment creation and to align them with the vision, mission and core functions of the Ministry.

The core exercise included an assessment comprising strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats of the Ministry, which highlighted key issues in the various Offices/Directorates/Divisions. These issues are transformed into strategic objectives to be addressed during the next five years. Furthermore, key aspects that emerged as hindrances in effecting the Ministry's core mandate, being structural, infrastructural and budgetary, were reviewed. The issues are imperative components of the Strategic Plan. However, they would be insignificant if unaccompanied by Strategic Leadership and Management. The fundamental aspects which are central to the Strategic Plan, such as the basis and the approach have been highlighted as pertinent to its success.

An approach that is specifically needs-driven and based on the institution and not the governance system is key to effectively addressing the projected concern and achieving the intended objectives. Ultimately, a model that encompasses effective leadership and management as afore-mentioned focuses on action-driven change, which culminates into the successful implementation of the strategic plan. Best practices suggest that unsurpassed success is realized by navigating away from management-administrative procedures which focus mostly on strategy, goals and activities, towards effecting leadership and aligning policy that encompasses the individual, teams and the organizational culture.

The various reviews per Office, Directorate and Division and recommendations forms the foundation for shaping the strategic direction. This will culminate in a pragmatic strategic plan, which would be realistic, measurable, and verifiable to make all MLIREC officials accountable for desired outcomes in an effort to serve all of its stakeholders effectively and efficiently in line with its mandate, vision, mission and values (behavioural framework).

The crux of the MLIREC's expressed need is to ensure aligned strategic leadership that understands the strategic planning process, methodology and its implications, comprehends the importance of cross functional alignment and strategic focus (interdependencies) to ensure that the vision is achieved.

The following were some of the major achievements for the previous Strategic Plan:

- The Labour Disputes Prevention and Resolution Mechanism (System) has been introduced, tested, tried and found to be functioning well. It requires constant improvement along the way for proper functioning and perfection.
- The CMS is up and running, and has been decentralized to some of the Regional Offices.
- Arbitration Awards issued within the statutory prescribed timeframes, i.e. within 30 days.
- One Trade Union and Employment Organization was registered.

1.2 Purpose of the Strategic Plan

A Strategic Plan provides the strategic direction towards performance improvement through actions to carry out the organization's Mandate and achieve its Vision. A Strategic Plan is the foundation of Performance Management Systems (PMS). It sets clear strategic objectives and allows the organization to manage performance in order to achieve them. It forms a basis for Performance Agreements (PAs) at individual/staff level thereby translating a strategy into desired action by the entire organization. In addition, a Strategic Plan integrates and unifies an organization around a shared vision and guides decisions in the allocation of scarce resources.

The methodology followed to develop the MLIREC's Strategic Plan was based on the Public Service Strategic Planning Framework that has been developed by the Office of the Prime Minister (OPM) to guide the process of developing strategic plans across the entire Public Service. This is not only done for improving productivity and enhancing efficiency in the O/M/A but also for the effective implementation of the PMS in the Public Service.

Through strategic planning the Ministry is therefore able to:

Clearly define where it is going;

Establish strategies to get there;

Distinguish priority actions from non-priority actions;

Allocate resources to objectives and initiatives (strategies);

Take advantage of available capacity.

2. THE HIGH LEVEL STATEMENTS

5. CRITICAL SUCCESS FACTORS

What can the MLIREC do to ensure success with the implementation of its strategy? CSF's are presented below for regular consideration:

5.1 The Strategic Plan's success hinges on the ability of leadership to influence their followers to willingly travel on the journey of implementing the strategic objectives. Leadership should lead by example and ensure that the strategic plan is monitored, reported on and achieved going forward. This means that leadership should passionately believe in the vision and strategic objectives of the MLSW and have the ability to ensure strategy execution through daily strategic thinking.

5.2 Understanding and buy-in of the Planning Framework (PF) by management:

It is of critical importance that management and eventually all staff understand the principles, methodology and technical concepts of the PF. It is therefore strongly recommended that management (i) first understands the strategic plan content and then (ii) to communicate it to all staff and progressively to (iii) all relevant and appropriate stakeholders.

5.3 Sufficient budget to support identified strategic initiatives;

5.4 Sufficient, dedicated and passionate staff and time for implementing the Plan;

5.5 Effective and efficient communication of the strategy to all stakeholders;

5.6 Regular monitoring and evaluation of all initiatives and measures;

5.7 Updating of the Plan when necessary (objectives, measures, targets, initiatives, responsibilities, etc.);

The Strategic Plan should be a "living document" and hence it should be a daily management tool. An Annual Plan should be developed every year containing the targets of that specific year. This should be followed by the development and signing of Individual Performance Agreements.

- 5.8 Regular reporting of corporate and unit performance;
- 5.9 Supporting information system; and
- 5.10 Continuous evaluation and monitoring of progress towards achievement of performance targets (Performance Agreements and Annual Targets).

ANNEXURE

STAKEHOLDER ANALYSIS

The diagram below is a representation that attempts to illustrate the stakeholders for MLIREC. Some stakeholders can appear as both partners and clients.

The diagram below highlights the key stakeholder categories.

The stakeholders have an interest in the MLIREC and its activities and influence MLIREC to some extent – the impact can be large or small, direct or indirect.

MLIREC therefore, has to manage these stakeholders by means of:

- Knowing their roles

- Understanding their needs
- Building good relations
- Maintaining regular consultation and communication
- Educating them on labour and employment matters
- Strengthen cooperation with stakeholders

These should be done in accordance to a Stakeholder Management Plan.

The diagram below summarizes key stakeholders and their expectations from MLIREC.
